Knox SpecOps™ Stock

From the longest arm of the law to the shortest, the SpecOps Stock is instantly adjustable to fit any shooter. With over 4 inches of adjustment, this is a stock that the entire department can use comfortably in any application, with any load.

A recoil reducing stock that is light weight & a perfect fit

Just when you thought recoil reduction had reached maximum potential, Knox Industries has produced yet another patented recoil-reducing stock to revolutionize the way we think about shotguns. Utilizing dual Knox recoil-compensating systems, the SpecOps™ Stock has the ability to reduce the recoil of even the most potent loads by up to 75%.

Designed to fit any and all shooters, and practically devoid of recoil, the SpecOps™ Stock is the latest in the Knox family of recoil-reducing products. Utilizing not one but two recoil-absorbing mechanisms to soak up recoil, it makes even the heaviest loads easy for all shooters to handle.

Not just another adapter!
